PolyU staged first forum on China hotel and tourism development in New York

In response to the fast expanding opportunities in the hotel and tourism market in China, the School of Hotel and Tourism Management of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) and Hotel Online successfully hosted the first-ever "Seminar on China Hotel and Tourism Development" in New York on 27 April.

Staged at Le Parker Meridien hotel in New York City, the Seminar provided an excellent opportunity for business leaders, executives and academics to keep abreast of emerging trends and new developments in China's hotel and tourism market, and to network with each other.

Prof. Kaye Chon, Chair Professor and Director of PolyU's School of Hotel and Tourism Management, said: "It has never been more important for US-based developers and investors to learn about how best to capitalise on this upsurge in the market and be part of China's rush to become the No. 1 international tourist destination."

The Seminar featured talks on hot topics by renowned China experts as follows:

- "Overview of Hotel and Tourism Industry in China — Current Issues and Challenges" — Prof. Kaye Chon, Chair Professor and Director, School of Hotel and Tourism Management, PolyU;
